

When oral medication isn't an option.

Visit www.feverall.com

An alternate route to relief

Relief is on the way

There are times when babies can't—or won't—take medication orally. That's why doctors urge parents to keep FeverAll® suppositories on hand. FeverAll contains acetaminophen, the #1 recommended nonprescription ingredient for fever and pain relief in children. It's easy to administer, and you can take care of fevers with an accurate dose. Find FeverAll at your local pharmacy—it's the only brand of acetaminophen suppository.

Fill out this card and keep it by the phone, so that help is just a call away.

Doctor:

Phone:

Poison control:

Baby's date of birth:

Weight:

Current medications:

Food or drug allergies:

Mom's cell:

Dad's cell:

Emergency contact: